

FCC Commissioners
The Federal Communications Commission RE: Docket 04-435
445 12th Street, SW
Washington, DC 20554

Dear FCC Commissioners ,

I am writing to voice my concerns about the FCC's proposal to relax the restrictions on the use of cell phones on airplanes in flight.

There is no hard evidence that cell phone use doesn't interfere with navigational instruments. The introduction of cell phone use in the cabin will not only increase tension among passengers, it will compromise flight attendants' ability to maintain order in an emergency. Cell phone use could also enable terrorists to coordinate a plan of action more effectively. If you have ever left your cell phone next to your computer then you must understand what thousands of us understand about cell phones and how they disrupt electrical equipment. Imagine 200 people using their phones in flight at the same time. It terrifies me as a Flight Attendant to think this may become reality in the near future. Even now it is difficult to maintain control of the attention of passengers in order to give them something as simple as a five minute safety briefing because of cell phones on the plane.

PLEASE LEAVE THE CURRENT RULES IN EFFECT!
Sincerely, Shentele Suds 24631 Lake Meadow Dr.
